

Clinician Readiness Checklist

- This checklist is recommended for clinicians to determine if a student is at a therapeutic level for a self-disclosure classroom PowerPoint presentation.
- Clinician’s should complete the Pre-Presentation Readiness Scale prior to beginning therapy.
- A self-disclosure classroom presentation should be considered the final step of therapy and final step of self-disclosure hierarchy if “CLASSROOM” rating is either at a level 10 or if it is rated as the highest avoidance situation or highest concern producing situation compared to all other possible audiences. The student must be in agreement with the goal of a classroom presentation.
- We recommend that the student’s Post-Presentation Readiness Scale numbers will be no higher than 2 in all situations in order to recommend a self-disclosure PowerPoint presentation.
